

Job description for an IT cofounder

I am looking for a cofounder with IT skills. I have a few ideas myself, on how to achieve the vision I am having of the MemX, but I realised I need someone to bounce them off of.

I intend to learn to program myself, as the project progresses. But if I had someone with whom I could work with, I am sure things would go much more smoothly and faster. The endproduct of course would work much better, aswell.

The MemX would be a product of combined efforts, where the sum is bigger then ist parts combined.
